Thursday 14th December 2017

Our feature film is FREIGHTENED: the real price of shipping! - this award winning 2016 52 minute film reveals in an audacious investigation into the mechanics and perils of cargo shipping; an all-but-visible industry that relentlessly supplies 7 billion humans and holds the key to our global economy, our environment and the very model of our civilisation.

This will be preceded by 30 minutes of short film clips on other related transport issues, including updates on electric cars and autonomous driving.

Did you know 90% of the goods we consume in the West are manufactured in far-off lands and brought to us by ship. Or that 10% of marine pollution is caused by shipping? How sustainable is this?

The cargo shipping industry is a key player in world economy and forms the basis of our very model of modern civilisation; without it, it would be impossible to fulfil the ever-increasing demands of our societies. Yet the functioning and regulations of this business remain largely obscure to many, and its hidden costs affect us all. Due to their size, freight ships no longer fit in traditional city harbours; they have moved out of the public's eye. The film sheds some light on the many faces of world-wide freight shipping and the consequences for our planet!

Come along and make your own mind up about global transportation and its impacts on us and the planet!

Free film night, but donations towards film cost welcome.
